

submission instructions

open ideas competitions is arch out loud's means of both researching the most pressing issues in society as well as igniting dialogue between designers at a global scale. arch out loud intends to explore innovative solutions, find better alternatives to convention and invigorate the field of design through the means of our organization and public platform.

[ SUBMISSION MATERIALS ]

Each team is required to submit one (1) ARCH D size board (24in x 36in or 610mm x 914mm) oriented landscape or portrait. Teams must place their given confirmation number in the upper left corner of their board in Arial 18pt font.

The content of the boards is left open to each team to decide what best communicates their concepts and solutions to the jury. On a separate document all teams must also provide a one paragraph explanation of the project for publishing purposes.

Possible board content may include, but is not limited to, plans, sections, elevations, rendered perspectives, diagrams, and images of physical models.

All work can be submitted through the arch out loud website: archoutloud.com/-submit

For any issues with submitting or questions about the process please contact info@archoutloud.com

PLEASE NOTE:

All text on submission boards MUST be in English. Text written in a different language will not be considered during judging. For publishing purposes winners will be asked to submit individual images within one week of the announcement.

[ TERMS & CONDITIONS ]

By submitting your work online arch out loud attains all rights to publishing on both web and print platforms.

For complete terms and conditions please refer to the page of the arch out loud website:

archoutloud.com/termsandconditions

