JURY PROCESS

All 460 proposals have been carefully critiqued by a design panel. Each proposal was evaluated on its response to culture, space and user experience, as well as how the cemetery relates to both Tokyo and the field of architecture.

The Top 50 proposals are available for your further critique. Please return selections by October 16th.

JURY SELECTIONS

Jurors select their top nine projects from the finalists and record on provided sheet.

Jurors rank top four projects (1 - 4), 1 being first place and so on. Jurors include five honorable mention projects in no specific order.

Jurors provide brief statement on why they selected their top four placements. These will be used for an anonymous group jury statement in press releases.

Projects are awarded points based on their rankings. Points are calculated and final standings are determined for the competition.

The project with the most points receives first place, the following three highest point earners are awarded runner-up. The next five projects in total points receive an honorable mention.
